grament, began to-day legal proedings to regain all patents and trademarks estimated to be worth todian. many millions of dollars are involved.

The government seeks to have all these returned to the Alien Property quest of President Harding dated July 1 last.

Suit in equity was filed by the Attorney General in the District Court of the United States for the District of the United States for the District of the United States for the District of Delaware, at Wilmington, in which state the Chemical Foundation is incorporated. The defendant is asked to be required to account for all profits derived from these patents and trademarks and other rights, and to pay the same over to the Alien Property Cuntodian. The amount of these profits is not estimated.

Urges Protection for All

The government requires that the part in granting the relief sought will court in granting the relief sought will so shape its decrees and impose such equitable conditions that the rights and interests of all licensees of said patents, either from the Chemical Foundation or the Federal Trade Commission, may be protected. The bill operifically prays that the patents and ther rights, as well as the income irrefrom, be returned to the government, to be held by the Alien Property fastodian and disposed of by him as an arrowing the property fastodian and disposed of by him as an arrowing the property fastodian and disposed of by him as a complete list of persons eligible to vote in the city. He is canvassing the records of the District Attorney's office to make a record of those who on complete the property fastodian and disposed of by him as so shape its decrees and impose such equitable conditions that the rights and interests of all licensees of said gatents, either from the Chemical Feundation or the Federal Trade Commission, may be protected. The government makes broad and general allegations of a plan to create, and the existence of, a dye and chemical monopoly in the United States, which was stimulated by the shutting off these products from Germanyupon the declaration of war. The bill of complaint shows that before June, 1918, considerable progress had been made in the formution of such a 1918, considerable progress had been hade in the formation of such a monopoly by a limited number of corporations, chief among which were the National Aniline and Chemical Company, the Selvay Process Company, the Semet-Solvay Company and the Barrett Company, all of which in 1920 were combined into the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

The government further alleges that control of the industry was effected by means of agreements between these corporations and other persons, firms mesna of agreements between these emporations and other persons, firms and corporations, and by means of trade organizations, among others the American Dres Institute, the American Chemical Society, the Chemical Manufacturers' Association of the United States, the Textile Alliance, Inc., and their affiliated organizations. The government alleges and charges that by means of such methods, agreements and organizations there had been accomplished by June, 1918, "an organized and united control and monopoly of the manufacture, sale and distribution of dyes and the ingredients therefor and of chemicals related thereto or used in connection therewith in the United States."
